

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS OF SPECIFIED POSITIONS

You shall provide personnel in the following positions whose qualifications meet or exceed those specified below. Failure to provide the level of skills required for these positions may be cause for contract termination. You shall submit resumes of all personnel including replacement or additional personnel for the positions of Principal Investigator, Project Archaeologist, and Crew Chief prior to any such replacement or additional action.

PRINCIPAL INVESTIGATOR (PI).

The PI shall meet the requirements in DA 200-4 except that experience may be substituted for part of the educational requirements. Specifically, graduate education may be replaced by not less than an additional five (5) years supervisory experience on archaeological and historical projects, at least one (1) regional or national level publication on cultural resources, and evidence of the successful initiation and completion (at a PI level) of at least three (3) research projects which were primarily authored by the applicant. Principal Investigators (PIs) shall have not less than two (2) years of Project Archaeologist level experience in the southwest and or western Arizona or in other such area as is appropriate, resulting in authorship of at least three (3) publications. Evidence of publication in this region's journals is desirable, as are papers presented to professional conferences.

PROJECT ARCHAEOLOGIST (PA)

Minimum of two (2) may be required. Project Archaeologists shall have professional qualifications at least equal to those in DA 200-4 except that experience may be substituted for part of the educational requirements. Graduate education requirements may be replaced by not less than an additional three (3) years supervisory experience on archaeological and historical projects, at least one (1) local or regional level publication on cultural resources for continuing evidence of papers presented at professional conferences, and successful participation in and authorship of at least two (2) research projects. Project archaeologists shall be required to have not less than two (2) years of crew chief level or higher experience in the southwest and or western Arizona or in other such area as is appropriate, resulting in authorship of at least two (2) publications.

CREW CHIEFS

Crew Chiefs shall have appropriate training (e.g., archaeological or historical) and not less than two (2) years experience in archaeological or historical as appropriate, filed surveys in the southwest and or western Arizona or in other such area as is appropriate.

CREW MEMBERS

Crew members shall have sufficient education and experience in cultural resource investigations to perform required work without need for excessive supervision.
